7. What to Show in the Demo

| Feature/objective                  | Best demo scenario                                                                                                                                  |
|------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Login/registration objective       | Use any player account such as amelia_brown to show player login, profile access, and joined sessions.                                              |
| Scheduling objective               | Use organiser_james or organiser_sophia to show sessions created by organisers and upcoming/past matches.                                           |
| Attendance tracking objective      | Use organiser_sophia on Community Cup Practice or organiser_james on Late Evening Kickabout to show mixed attendance.                               |
| Capacity checks                    | Use Tuesday 5-a-side or Advanced Balance Trial as full upcoming matches. Use Saturday Community Match or Open Training Session as not-full matches. |
| Team allocation/fairness objective | Use Advanced Balance Trial because it contains high-skill players and has enough players for Team A/Team B allocation.                              |
| Dashboard/statistics objective     | Use organiser dashboard accounts to show joined count, attended count, full/not-full sessions, and attendance patterns.                             |
| 100% attendance story              | Amelia Brown and Joshua Wilson are the clean reliability examples. They have 100% attendance in every past match they joined.                       |
